

Rock Foundation builds new playground

The Rock Foundation recently built a new playground at Centro Escolar in Nejapa, El Salvador. The Rock Foundation is working with relief organizations in developing nations to build playgrounds. We match the students with their peers in the United States through a school supply and pen pal program.